

Bookmark These 2019 Designer Destinations

DECEMBER 21, 2018

With 2018 just about in the books, we're thinking about where to book in 2019. Will the year ahead be the year of the poolside paradise, the off-the-grid hideaway, or something in between? To make the call, we tapped some of the biggest trendsetters we know (eleven style-savvy interior designers) and asked where they'll be jetting off to in the months ahead. From stateside locales with under-the-radar appeal to buzzy international hotspots, these are their top travel destinations for 2019. Use these designer destinations to plan your own 2019 travels, or to simply indulge in some wanderlust!

Adventures Abroad

"We are discussing a potential trip to Croatia and Venice! We often travel together with our husbands and children which makes for constant adventures. On the agenda for Croatia is to go truffle hunting in Motovun. In Venice, we are hoping to sign up for a family mask making class!" – Anne Maxwell Foster and Suysel dePedro Cunningham of Tilton Fenwick

"I am off to India in 2019 as part of my recently-launched boutique designer travel series, Travel with Grant. In March, October, and December, I'll be leading small groups around India's northern state of Rajasthan. We'll start off by exploring Rajasthan's capital, Jaipur, the fabled Pink City, and will add a side trip to see the majestic Taj Mahal. We'll also take a closer look at local arts such as block printing, rug sourcing, jewelry and so much more! For a design lover, traveling to India is the trip of a lifetime. Inspiration is around every corner!" – Grant Gibson of Grant K. Gibson Interior Design
